

CineSat and GEPARD websites will move in February, 2021

2021-02-01

The CineSat website, the GEPARD website and the CineSat support pages will move to a new CentOS-8 platform in February, 2021.

As part of our migration strategy,

- the CineSat software,
- all customer servers and services and
- all internal systems and services will migrate to a new CentOS-8 platform by end of February, 2021.

In addition to a new operating system, our websites will also migrate to a new Wiki release and a new cloud software product.

The expected short interruptions of our online services will be communicated on the respective websites.
